DEMOCRATIC DISTRICT CONVENTION

WADDELL AND STANFORD.

MYROVER AND KERCHNER.

SHACKELFORD AND MACKS.

HARMONY AND VICTORY.

The Democratic Convention of the Third Congressional District met in the Opera House, Fayetteville, on Wednesday, May 31, 1876, for the call of the Executive Committee. Every county in the District was represented, and most of them by a large number of delegates. The utmost harmony and enthusiasm prevailed, and the unanimity and hearty good will with which the entire work was ratified gave unmistakable evidence of an assured victory in November.

At 11 o'clock the Convention was called to order by J. A. Worth, Esq., of Cumberland, Chairman of the Executive Committee, who briefly stated the purpose for which it had been called. He designated Mr. R. K. Bryan of Yancey as temporary Chairman.

Mr. Bryan in taking the chair addressed the delegates briefly but ably upon the importance of the political crisis and urging harmony in their deliberations and unceasing work afterwards until the election.

Messrs. J. W. Dunham of New Hanover and John Nutt, Jr., of Bladen were appointed Secretaries.

The Chairman announced the following committee upon organization which had been ordered by motion, viz: A. D. McLean of Harnett, J. D. Stanford of Duplin, J. W. Shackelford of Onslow, J. A. Worth of Cumberland, A. J. Engelhard of New Hanover, W. T. Everett of Pender, E. W. Kerr of Sampson, B. L. Perry of Carteret, T. S. Memory of Columbus, R. Galloway of Brunswick, D. Cromar of Bladen and J. A. Worthy of Moore.

After a short recess, the convention assembled, and through their chairmen, General McLean, the president directed the third ballot to be taken, which resulted, fol-

The following will be read with interest by those of our readers who have visited the many ruins of Old Brunswick Church, and especially by those who number the author as belonging to one of the distinguished families which first settled the Cape Fear country. They were written many years ago, probably when Mr. Moore was about to leave his home for a distant part of the country, from which he never returned.

We are indebted for the copy to a gentleman who received it from Mr. John Moore Brown, of Minneapolis, whose amiable and excellent wife wrote the poem in memory shortly before her death, which occurred in the spring of 1875. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were members of the Cape Fear section, and in their warm regards have always remained the friends and friends of their beloved with the greatest interest and affection.

OLD BRUNSWICK.

By JESUS A. MOORE, Esq.

At the hour when day is fast sinking
How we sit with feelings of pensive doubt.

O! charmed wave-beaten shore have

I strayed.

And gazed on its waters as calmly they roll.Then dark heaving waves to the seas.The sun had just set and his last glare tinged a moment and then diedOn the walls of Brunswick! where in times that are past, now, the silence

Lies death.

Where once rang the peals of devon

Tide.

The mounding wall and the moss covered stoneAll that remind us of the days that are gone.Savvy! the vaginates of the woes that tell theWhen Albion's proud legions strove to the core.

To yield to her relentless sway.

That I strayed by a lonely land then art.The sun, oh Brunswick! are dear to my heart;And I think of those oft as my own native home.Who is stranger abroad? lonely shall be to me.

When I'm far, far away!
